SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

A Japanese Labor Unit (工作隊) was officially established as part of General FU Tso-yi's North China Bandit Suppression Headquarters on 1 May 1948, after the completion of drafting regulations and other preliminary work during April 1948. The Unit was formed for the purpose of winning over the Japanese now serving in the Chinese Communist armies or working in the various political and economic organizations within Chinese-Communist-controlled areas. 25X1X

2. NAKAMURA Tatsujiro (中村辰次郎) has been officially appointed to head the four regular Japanese employees of the Unit, whose offices are located within the North China Bandit Suppression Headquarters in the western district of Peiping. 25X1A

██████████ reported that the Peiping office of the Second Bureau, Ministry of National Defense, had appointed NAKAMURA to undertake the mission of effecting liaison with Japanese hold-out troops in Manchuria. See ██████████ for a report on Japanese troops serving with the Chinese Communists.)
